

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN

I am greatly interested in the discussion now going on throughout the United States, and especially as it is being considered in Bryan, concerning the religious teaching and training of our youth. I was present at the Methodist Church Sunday night and heartily approved of everything that was done then.

May I call your attention to the fact that Christianity has had diversified relations to education, times, who have had an intelligent Christians everywhere and at all times who have had an intelligent view of things, have been for religious teachings. Go back, if you please, to the Greco-Roman Empire; it gradually absorbed many of the tenets and traditions of that ancient classic world. The doctrines of the Divine Redeemer were taught everywhere by fathers, bishops and missionaries who had imbibed the philosophic and legal ideas of the Greeks and the Romans. After the collapse of civilization precipitated by the downfall of Rome, the church preserved for future ages the rich heritage of learning from former times.

The heritage was recovered and enriched by the Renaissance, a remarkable movement which liberated the human mind, enabling man to give a notable impetus to art, architecture, literature, and to the beginning of science. The Reformation came later and diverted the attentions of educators to politics and religion. The old order of a federalized Europe was displaced by the new nationalism. The principal countries with France well to the front, became more or less self-controlled. The discovery of the Americas transferred authority to new centers and opened up the amazing vistas which we now survey with mingled fear and hope. Nevertheless, Christianity continued to hold to education.

Our own republic and later France, first established the system of universal public instruction which is now widely debated at home and abroad. The Bible is rapidly being outlawed in our public schools. The result is telling in youthful depravity and spiritual tragedy. This is a time when every good citizen should welcome every means of stemming the tide of lawlessness and moral ruin. The Bible is the one Book that grips the conscience, and the only one that commands the moral forces of the human soul to respond to the spiritual needs.

Therefore it will go a long way to reinforce the few minutes of Sunday school teaching, to have one period a week, at least, to teach the Bible and other religious lessons.

One of America's most beloved authors Gene Stratton-Porter, recently wrote: "To my mind the wave of lawlessness, of immorality, of irresponsibility, that is sweeping the country today is directly the result of taking the Bible from the schools and neglecting it in the home." Let us all join in this movement that is now stirring the nation, and before us in Bryan, and help save our youth before it is irretrievably too late.

"To deprive education of religion, is to take the soul out of the body politic, and the spirit that hallows and preserves human character out of learning."

Presbyterians To Restore Noted Old Virginia Church

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 10.—Presbyterians throughout the United States are being called upon to unite in the restoration of the "Old First Church" of Alexandria, Va., the scene of many historic associations, but now falling into ruin.

Members of the National Committee pushing the campaign include Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton; Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia; Mrs. Selden P. Spencer, widow of the late Missouri senator; Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia; Houston Thompson, federal trade commissioner, and Mrs. Robert Lansing of Washington.

The movement has been actively under way since April 27, the 141st anniversary of the completion of the church and John B. Gordon, chairman of the local committee, hopes to have sufficient funds on hand a year hence to commence the restoration.

The edifice was built in 1774, two years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and stands on South Fairfax Street, named after Lord Fairfax who exerted influence on the career of George Washington. The Masonic Lodge of George Washington held its first religious ceremony after its institution in 1783, members in charge of the present appeal say, in the old church. Similarly, Masonic funeral honors were paid to the Father of His Country there, December 27, 1799.

Dr. James Muir, who officiated at Washington's funeral as chaplain of the Alexandria Lodge of Masons, is buried under the church floor. Capitalist In Receipt Poetic Offer Marriage

A heart-warming, love-inspiringmissive has been received by one of Bryan's captivating capitalists and he is so stirred by it, he has been passing it on to his friends:

"My Dear and Respectful Sir: I send you this your love to stir, I send you this chosen first of all, on whom to make a call. I've given you the utmost chance, a home for you I could entrust. Your heart and hand I ask not in jest, and hope you grant my fond request and send me back without delay your answer saying 'Yes' or 'No.' But if your heart does not incline in wedlock clasp to join in mine you must the fairy law obey, and down to $5 pay, besides kind sir a handsome dress. Now I ask no more nor take no less. Now you may think this funny, but I must have man o' money. So now do send me your reply and let me be your little wife until I die. And if you think I am dandy, send me a box of any old candy. And if the writer's name you guess, follow me to my address. And if for me there is no hope, send me back five yards of rope. With lots of love and a thousand kisses from the one who wants to be YOUR OWN MRS."

Reports Heard From Brenham District Meet

With Mrs. W. S. Howell as hostess of a called meeting of the Bryan Woman's Club was held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock with good attendance. The object of meeting was to hear a report of the recent district meeting of the T. F. W. C. held at Brenham, as told by the delegates from the Bryan club, and other club members who attended. The distribution of the new year-books for 1925-1926, was also a feature of the Tuesday meeting. One special committee made report upon the fact of having the club room at Carnegie Library retinted and cleaned before the opening of the club in October.

Mrs. D. Brooks Cofer, as chairman of the year book committee, in distributing the new books this early, and in the splendid program of activities set forth in the program of the year, was many times assured of the deep appreciation of her faithful and efficient work, by every member of the club, as was also Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. J. N. Goodwin the two assisting members of the year book committee.

The report of the district meeting at Brenham was full and interesting and gave to the Bryan club members who were not present at the meeting, a true and attractive picture of that, which was in many ways one of the greatest district meetings ever held in the state. Mrs. M. W. Sims, Mrs. J. T. Hanway, Mrs. M. Hetty Curry, Mrs. F. L. Henderson, Mrs. J. E. Astin, Mrs. A. K. Brown, and Mrs. W. S. Howell, gave glowing accounts, each touching a different phase of the meeting and as each had a different viewpoint, added interest was given the report.

At the close of the hour, Mrs. Howell served her guests a refreshing glass of iced ginger ale and wafers, and "over the tea cups" the happiness and pleasure of the occasion was continued with delight and joyous fellowship.

Judge W. C. Davis gave us a little bit of Brazos county history today we didn't know before and we are going to pass it on, because there may be others that may not know it. The watershed or highest point in Brazos county is marked by the big elm tree in front of Judge J. T. Maloney's home on East 28th street. Here all the water that falls on the West runs into the Brazos river and all on the East runs into the Navasota river.

TWO JUDGES DISCOVERED

Brazos county Confederate veterans returning from the Dallas reunion tell a good one on Judge W. C. Davis and Judge J. Felton Lane of Hearne. Grey hairs were at a premium at the reunion for it gave every man a pass port to be loved and kissed and looked after by the sweetest and prettiest young girls the South could produce. Judge Davis and Judge Lane, who have always so proudly boasted of their raven locks, for once found themselves on the side lines looking on. So they found it necessary to counsel together. After much debating they decided to buy a can of talcum powder and try to camouflage. You can judge for your self how well it worked. They went to the reunion for one day and stayed until the last veteran and sponsor had gone.

RECORD THE PAST

What about a historical association for Brazos county? Other counties throughout the State are forming these associations to preserve for the younger generation their splendid heritage found in the history of their county. There still are many of the older citizens that are familiar with the past history of the county and can tell most interestingly the incidents and happenings that transpired. Soon these beloved ones will have passed on and then all of this treasured information will have been lost. The Eagle is interested in preserving this historical data for the younger generation and it is also interested in the present generation knowing its own county. It is really appalling how little the average citizen knows of his own state and county's history. We will publish any historical data that is brought to us. If you know any interesting bit of Brazos county history, send it in and let's get a record of it. No state in the Union has so picturesque and thrilling a history as Texas, and Brazos has a part in this and the facts and figures should be recorded.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

Texas can ill spare Dr. Bizzell from the presidency of A. and M. but if he considers the presidency of Oklahoma University a larger opportunity there is nothing more to be said, except that Texas will gratefully remember his services. Oklahoma University does not compare in point of attendance with our own State University, but the Sooners are looking forward educationally. It may not be many years until Texas will have to defend her laurels.

—Galveston News.

Higher education in Texas suffers a distinct loss in the departure of A. and M. college of Dr. W. B. Bizzell. In the presidency of that institution for the last eleven years, he has rendered signal service. The institution itself has experienced a splendid, substantial growth under his administration, which bears tribute to his ability as an educator and as an executive. His administration has been marked by a degree of harmony and co-operation among all concerned that deserves to stand as an example for all other educational institutions. Dr. Bizzell has been especially fortunate in being able to represent the college in such a way as to secure favorable consideration of those with whom rests the responsibility of making financial provisions for the State's institutions. A. and M., in common with other educational institutions of the State, has suffered from lack of adequate financial support, but the retiring president has succeeded in having many of the college's more urgent needs provided for. Dr. Bizzell's departure from the college and from the State is a source of genuine regret to the people of Texas, who have held him in high esteem as a scholar, as an educational leader, and as a native citizen. No Texas educator has ever enjoyed the confidence of the people at large in greater measure than he has. Texas has contributed much to the citizenship of Oklahoma, but it has never made a more worthwhile contribution from Dr. Bizzell. While regretting to lose him, his fellow citizens of Texas congratulate him upon being called to what he considers a larger field of service.

—Houston Post-Dispatch.

The departure of Dr. W. B. Bizzell from Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College adds another to the long list of distinguished Texans who have found elsewhere the opportunities and conditions which alone make the life of an educator worth while. Perhaps one of the most notable distinctions of Texas colleges is that they have furnished an extraordinarily large number of presidents, professors and instructors for colleges in other states. That is not a distinction of unmixed credit. Texas could well use in its own educational work this galaxy of great teachers and executives who have gone out from its schools.

Dr. Bizzell in his letter of resignation, makes no criticism of the Texas public attitude toward educational institutions. It is a paradox that whereas officially, through the Legislature and executive offices, the people of Texas treat their schools and colleges with contempt and dole out funds to them with extreme niggardness, as private citizens and in the mass they accord them every degree of respect and enthusiastic support. The institutions not owned by the State, indeed, have little to complain of with regard to the manner in which the public supports their activities and their financial programs. State institutions, however, have been made the playthings of politics, subject to every official whim. It is little wonder that Texas can keep, in its state schools few outstanding educators, and only those who account the private loyalty of the people as sufficient to offset their official contemptuousness.

Dr. Bizzell has made a notable record at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. It is a good stroke of business for Oklahoma to obtain his ability for administering its university.

—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

W. B. Bizzell has resigned as head of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas to accept a call to the headship of the University of Oklahoma. Of course, his resignation will be accepted. It would be unfair to Dr. Bizzell to try to restrain him from entering a field which he deems broader and promising of greater possibilities than those ahead of the institution near Bryan. He goes to a younger state than Texas. He goes to the United States as far as its public educational advantages are concerned than Texas. These are facts that are hard for Texans to consider. Nevertheless, they are facts and the resignation of Dr. Bizzell is just one of the proofs.

Texas has lost many of her greatest educators. They have gone to institutions out of the state and often out of the south and southwest. Houston, who was in the cabinet during the Wilson administration; Mezes, president of the College of the City of New York, both former Presidents of Texas University, and others might be named in point whose departure from Texas was a blow indeed.

Why do they leave? This is a question for the rank and file of the citizenship to answer, and the place to answer it is at the polls when governors, senators and representatives are being chosen.

Mirabeau B. Lamar, that great Texan of the early day proclaimed that "The cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy; it is the only dictator that freemen acknowledge and the only liberator that freemen desire."

Texans must remember that Lamar was right. When they go to the polls they should have vision enough to look out into the on-rushing future and cast their vote for the best interest of the dawning day. If I elect this man as Governor, what will be the effect on the school system which my children attend and to which they must look for a cultivated mind? What is his attitude toward education—all education, high and low, is the question which should be uppermost in the mind of the voter when he polls his choice for senator or representative.

It does not take much of an imagination for one to see the relation between the resignation of Dr. Bizzell and the attitude of the present administration under the dome at Austin.

'A Rose Dream' Play Given By Treble Clef Club

A splendid crowd greeted the Treble Clef Club last night at Carnegie Library, when they presented the musical operetta, "A Rose Dream." By their presence they gave tangible evidence of their appreciation for the efforts of the children to know and enjoy music, and for Miss Nannie Berryman, director, who is doing such a wonderful work in teaching and training these young folks in the art of music.

This club is formed from the pupils of Miss Berryman's music class and meet every week on Wednesday afternoon to supplement their lessons with study in harmony, etc. An additional interest is given to these meetings as they are made social affairs with some light refreshment passed.

On this occasion every child deserves credit and praise for the way they played their part. Dressed in suitable costumes they presented a lovely picture of youth in fairyland. The story of "A Rose Dream," is that of a little girl who is permitted to live in fairy land for a day. Little Rose, who has wandered away from home is lost and falls asleep. The fairies find her, and the Fairy Queen designates Hop-o-Thumb to guide her through the Land of the Lost and later to Fairyland, her kingdom. She is accompanied by a band of fairies, mischievous elves and Giant Forget. In the second part Little Rose is brought to Fairyland itself, where the lovely Queen of the Fairies holds court.

Cast of Characters. The cast had been carefully coached, beautiful costumes and a delightful setting were provided, and nothing left undone to make this youthful presentation a success.

The characters are as follows: Fairy Queen—Ruth Johnson; a rose, Helen Fickey; Hop-o' my thumb, N. A. Stewart, Jr.; Giant Forget, Percy Tardy.

Fairies—Ann Bentley, Aline Carroll, Shirley Reed Walker, Jane Lee Singletary, Velma Bond.

Roses—Rosemary Childs, Mary E. Gardner, Ruth Beard, Lily Mai Nedbalek, Dorothy Edge.

Elves—Charles Carroll, Earl Tardy, George Singletary, Lily Rush Walker at the Piano.

Bryan Leads For Others To Follow

Secretary S. E. Eberstadt reported that during the past week four solicitors and seven advertising schemers had been refused endorsement.—From a report of the Chamber of Commerce meeting in Bryan, as published in the Bryan Daily Eagle.

Bryan money was kept in Bryan through the efforts of the chamber's endorsement committee. The same was being done here for awhile and perhaps the influence of it is still at work, for so many solicitors and schemers are not as plentiful as in the past. Let's keep this committee active. Secretary Kring will do his full duty if the business men and citizens generally will back him.—Beeville Picayune.

Wedding of Miss Una Buchanan Is Announced

Formal announcement was made on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edge, of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Una Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Buchanan of this city, to Mr. Tucker Mast of Nacogdoches, the marriage to take place during the month of June. Mrs. Harry Edge, Miss Lena Wooten and Mrs. C. B. Thompson were joint hostesses in extending to the bride-to-be this beautiful social courtesy. A miscellaneous shower of handsome gifts was a feature of the occasion, and gave untold happiness and delight to Miss Una. In the midst of a floral decoration of pink carnations throughout the reception rooms a miniature well, vine covered and attractive had been improvised. The old oaken bucket with the well rope attached, made the picture complete, and also made the guests very anxious to know just what was to be found in that well. At the proper time, Miss Lena Wooten, always original and entertaining in thoughts and words, spoke of the love of the guests present for the bride-to-be, and in rhyme, instructed her just how to draw happiness and love from that well. The first draw brought up the bucket, in which was a love note from these friends. Many, many beautiful gifts were "drawn" from the well, and many good wishes were given for a bright, happy future for Miss Una Buchanan, and her fiancé Mr. Tucker Mast. A refreshment course of iced punch and chicken sandwiches was served, and toasts were given for the honoree, the occasion, and the thoughtful and loving hostesses of the hour.

Mrs. M. W. Sims is visiting in Austin for the week-end. She expects to return to Bryan on Monday of next week.

MAJ. BURLERSON MENTIONED AS HEAD FOR A.-M.

AUSTIN, June 6.—The name of Major Richard Coke Burlerson, U. S. A., is to be presented to the board of directors of Texas A. and M. College for appointment as president of that institution to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. W. B. Bizzell, according to Austin friends of Major Burlerson. While making it clear that Major Burlerson is not an applicant, they expressed the belief that he would accept the appointment if tendered to him.

Major Burlerson is a native Texan, a graduate of A. and M. College and also a graduate of West Point. He is an honor graduate of the post-graduate school for military officers at Fort Leavenworth and is now of the general staff of the United States army at Washington, detailed in writing the history of the world war.

Charles Bryan Is Now Appearing On Chautauqua

(By Associated Press) CAMERON, June 6.—Religious discussions should be avoided by both the democratic and republican parties, declared Charles W. Bryan, yesterday, democratic nominee for vice president last year, who is appearing here on a chautauqua program. "We need to get back to the principle of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none' and discuss only matters over which the government has control," he declared.

The people of the West, South and North should unite to have high tariff rates repealed, as many Northern and Eastern factories are idle because they are waiting for the South and West to make another crop, he said.

Hubby Pledges Aid In Clearing Navasota River

"Your letter yesterday referring to conditions on the Navasota river has been passed along to our representative who is looking after this branch of the work and you may rest assured that a prompt and full investigation will be made and no efforts will be spared to force an improvement of the situation reported by you." was the text of a letter received today by Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt from Game Fish and Oyster Commissioner Turner E. Hubby. This letter comes in response to a request of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce to get relief from the salt water overflow from the oil fields polluting the Navasota river. The river water has gotten so salty that the fish are dying and cattle will not drink it. If this condition continues it means a loss of many cattle for many of the property owners lying along the river depend entirely upon the river water for their stock. The continued drought even makes the condition still more serious.

Mrs. Waldrop And Mrs. Mattie D. Willis Are Here

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mrs. Mattie D. Willis and her sister Mrs. A. M. Waldrop left for Texas on Wednesday. Mrs. Waldrop returned to her home in Bryan and Mrs. Willis to spend the summer with her mother in Waco. Before leaving Mrs. Willis announced that she had arranged for a yet larger studio in Carnegie Hall and would return early in the autumn to resume her piano instruction and her lectures on the understanding and appreciation of music. These lectures have proved so popular that during the last season Mrs. Willis was in great difficulty to meet the many requests from schools and clubs for the entire series.

Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Waldrop arrived in Bryan on last Friday. They report a very delightful sea voyage from New York to Galveston on the steamship San Jacinto.

Mrs. M. Francis motored to Bryan today from her home at College Station.

Among the features is a ride down the ship channel to the San Jacinto Battlefield with dinner at the San Jacinto Inn.

Gas Engine Course Will Be Given At Summer School

(Special to the Eagle) COLLEGE STATION, June 8.—Preparations are being made by the A. and M. College of Texas for the opening of the summer course of the eight weeks Gas Engine, Automobile and Tractor course, June 17 and 24. This course is designed for the power farmer or anyone using a gas engine, automobile or tractor. Definite results have been obtained from this course and thousands of dollars are being saved annually as a result. So necessary have the automobile and tractor become to the average farmer that the time is present when the farmer must have a practical working knowledge of these machines to successfully carry out his work. And, too, these machines are performing a great work in enabling the American youth to see the future of agriculture.

Intensive Training. It is more necessary today than ever before for the American farmer to produce his products with the lowest possible cost of production. Each rural worker directing the maximum amount of power, is one of the ways to reduce this cost.

The eight weeks course is outlined to give intensive training relative to the gas engine, automobile and tractor. Owners or prospective owners will make a profitable investment by attending this course. A special bulletin which may be had upon request, is being sent out by the Agricultural Engineering Department, A. and M. College, College Station.

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, June 8.—Because their day of execution was set for Sunday, June 28, Frank and Lorenzo Noel, negro brothers, given death for criminal assault on Mrs. Mary Steer in Dallas, April 12, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, today granted the two men a respite of five days.

NOTED ARTIST IS BRYAN BOY

Refusing a number of splendid offers to enter the service of Landscape Artists of National and world-wide reputation, J. Allen Myers, Jr., has decided to spend three or four months studying Landscape Art in Europe, after which he will return to Harvard where he has been attending and hopes to receive an advanced degree in Landscape Art next winter. Mr. Myers has already landed across the water, according to a cablegram received by his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Myers of Bryan. Mr. Myers expects to study in England, France, Italy, Switzerland and Spain.

His flattering offers to enter service with some of the noted men of the profession in America came as a result of his having been one of the four high men in a recent competition in Landscape Art, open to all Eastern Universities. Due to his exceptional ability as demonstrated by his exhibit in the contest, he has been asked to accept an promising position with Terracotta Vitale of New York, an Italian Landscape Artist; also with Warren J. Manning, a Landscape Artist of national reputation if St. Louis, Missouri. He has refused these and other positions in order to go abroad and study and later to finish his work for a degree. In order to study on the continent he has obtained a leave of absence from Harvard.

Mr. J. Allen Myers, Jr., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Myers of Bryan. He was born in this city and graduated at Allen Military Academy, later entering Cornell University, from which place he graduated after one year's absence while in the United States Army during the World War. While attending Cornell he specialized in Floriculture and spent one summer on the famous Rockefeller estate at Rockwood Hall, Tarrytown on the Hudson. After

DR. SEARCY PRINCIPAL SPEAKER TABOR COMMUNITY CLUB MEET

The regular community meeting held at Tabor last evening was not according to program, but turned out to be an inspiring, interesting and peppy meeting.

The expected speaker was unavailable, the president of the club, Walter Tabor, county agent, Prof. W. C. Colson, and others are too accustomed to dealing with emergencies in a successful manner to permit such a thing as the absence of a speaker or change of program from interfering with the progress of the community work, consequently on short notice a substitute program was prepared.

Searcy Speaker

Dr. C. A. Searcy, president of the Bryan Lions Club, was drafted as the speaker for the evening and proved that he knows something more than how to care for the sick when he warmed up and told of the importance of service in a community and the value of service clubs such as the Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanis, etc., and dwelt upon the importance of business firms rendering a service to humanity in their particular sphere and said that when this was properly done that commercial considerations would take care of themselves. He emphasized the value of flowers for the living and uplift work among the friendless and unfortunate and stressed the fact that the greatest work is to seek to serve humanity in our daily avocations and thus improve the heart life, home life and community life. He then compared the Tabor community of a number of years ago with the Tabor community of today and complimented the Club on its enviable record and pointed with pride to the accomplishments of the past, bespeaking an enviable future for the activities of the members.

He was followed by S. C. Hoyle, Editor of Extension Service Publications A. & M. College, who likewise talked on service and goals. He told of the dangers of resting upon our laurels and living in the memory of past achievements, saying that such an attitude breeds decay and dissolution. He said that when man, beast or tree ceases to grow that it begins to die, and urged the Tabor Community Club to set a definite goal and cooperate in greater achievements saying that it is well to be proud of the past, but that it is better to so build as to be proud of the present and emphasizing the importance of pulling together in definite programs for future achievements.

Good Community Songs

Jim Good had likewise been drafted who assisted in the singing, and at the close of the meeting some peppy songs were sung under his leadership assisted by C. L. Beason, Dr. Searcy and others, one of the songs being paraphrased to proclaim that Walter Armstrong was better than he used to be.

Plans for the next meeting were then announced and the club adjourned to stand around and discuss the enjoyable and instructive program which had been prepared on a moment's notice.

Truly the leaders in the Tabor Community Club have demonstrated their ability to light on their feet under any disappointing circumstances which accounts for the many laurels they have won in the past and bespeaks new laurels for the future.

LETTER WRITTEN BY A. J. SEARCY TELLS OF FIGHT OF CONFEDERACY

The following letter was written April 18, 1864, by A. J. Searcy, father of Dr. C. A. Searcy, of this city, to his sister, Miss Caroline Keefe, while he was a soldier in the Confederate Army. The letter was read by the Searcy family at a recent meeting of the Woman's Club, when she led the history lesson on "War Between the States."

Mrs. Searcy gave much interesting personal history in connection with the letter, making a pleasant and profitable hour. Many names of former citizens of Brazos and Madison counties appear in the old letter, which will be of interest to many readers.

"Camp near Winston, La., April 18, 1864. My Dear Sister: After a long silence, I take my pen in hand, to let you know that I am well, hoping that these few lines may find you all enjoying the same great blessings of life.

"Well, sister, I haven't anything to write you that's new, other than I have already written.

"I wrote home about the fight, but for fear the children didn't get my letter, I will give you a few particulars. We had a fight on the 8th and 9th of this month. We whipped the Yankees very bad and drove them back twenty miles in one day and a night. We took two hundred and fifty wagons and twenty pieces of artillery from them and five thousand prisoners.

"There were dead and dying strewn for five miles in the first day's fight. I was not in the last days fight but the boys say that it was about the same.

"There were three men killed out of our company. I will tell you who they were: W. B. Edinburg, W. T. Manning and Thomas Brain, and there were three wounded, one badly. Hal Jones and Julius Brown were wounded in the foot. Statley and Capt.

Following the presentation of the subject Mr. Hoyle, assisted by Miss Marie Arthur of Louisiana has been asked to lead the discussion for a round table talk.

SUNSET SUPPERS POPULAR FORM OF RECREATION TIRED OFFICE TOILERS

Quite the most popular form of recreation just at this time is the sun-set supper, where families and groups of friends and neighbors meet on the banks of the Brazos River, at the big bridge, at Fin-Feather Club house, the Country Club, Carter's Creek bridge, Vick's Lake, in Cavitt's pasture or some other of the many attractive spots near Bryan and eat the evening meal together, in picnic style. When the business of the day is over, and the stores, banks and shops are closed, waiting automobiles convey these happy picnic parties away, and to the chosen grounds, and the sun-set supper is thoroughly enjoyed. Relaxation, vacation and a general rest, comes with the ever popular sun-set suppers.

(Special to the Eagle). COLLEGE STATION, June 6.—In accepting the resignation of Dr. W. B. Bizzell as president of the A. & M. College of Texas the board of directors of the institution passed resolutions lauding him as a college administrator, builder and man of powerful personality in manhood, morality and spirituality and avowed their unending loyalty and affection and best wishes in extending their congratulations to the board of directors of the University of Oklahoma.

An additional message of congratulation to the board of directors on their acquisition of President Bizzell was sent to Oklahoma by F. M. Law, president of the Texas A. & M. Board.

Whereas, Dr. Bizzell shortly after accepting the Presidency of the College in September 1914, caught a vision of a matchless service to the State and Nation through the three fold organization of the College in its Experiment Station System, Extension Service and College of Resident Instruction, and

DRUGGISTS IN TEXAS DO NOT WANT WHISKY

(By Associated Press). FORT WORTH, June 9.—Texas drug stores do not want to sell liquor by prescription and greatly prefer that the government would take over the sales and handle whiskey through the dispensary system, according to Walter Whisenand, president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, which began a three days convention here today. "We sent questionnaires to 1,000 druggists in the state," Walter Adams, Secretary of the Association said, "and 800 of them, in their replies, declared they did not want to handle the liquor in any way."

State Will Get Over A Quarter Million In Tax

AUSTIN, June 8.—Net valuation of the properties of the late Mrs. Henrietta M. King, including the famous King Ranch in Kleberg County, said to be the largest ranch in the world, is given at $6,239,122 in the preliminary report of the executors of the estate, filed with Comptroller S. H. Terrell Monday. If these figures are accepted it was said at the Comptroller's Department that the inheritance tax to the State would amount to approximately $250,000. However, the tax will not be computed until the final report has been made. The law allows six months within which to present the final report.

The executors of the estate are Cesar Kleberg, Robert J. Kleberg, son-in-law of Mrs. King, both of Kingsville, and Richard King of Corpus Christi.

A list of heirs accompanies the report, but the amounts of bequests are not given. The list includes the Presbyterian Church of Brownsville and the Presbyterian Synod of Southwest Texas. Routine Matters Were Taken Up In Commerce Meet

At the regular Tuesday morning session of the Chamber of Commerce directors, Secretary Eberstadt read a letter from State Fish and Game Commissioner T. E. Hubby promising to lend his assistance in the request to investigate the salt in the Navasota river.

Dr. E. P. Humbert addressed the board members telling them that the term of County Public Health Nurse Miss Elizabeth Curtis would expire on October 1 and he thought that the financing of the work was working a hardship on the parent-teacher organization and others that it should come from the support of the city and county commissioners. A committee of five are to be appointed by President Jno. M. Lawrence to take up this matter at once.

A. M. Waldrop, chairman of the trade extension committee said that he would have a definite announcement to make regarding the proposed trade trip to Normangee at the next meeting. He hoped that 15 or 20 cars would make the trip. They would take dinner in that city and spend three or four hours there.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree stated that Dr. H. H. Harrington, a member of the Board of Control, would be in Bryan on Wednesday en route to Washington Park to a meeting of the commission of that institution and that he would spend Wednesday night here and be in the city on Thursday morning and mentioned it so his former friends could call and see the distinguished visitor.

Those present were: Ike Ashburn, J. E. Covey, W. H. Cole, Eugene Edge, Mayor Tyler Haswell, Jno. M. Lawrence, T. K. Lawrence, L. L. McInnis, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, A. M. Waldrop, M. E. Wallace.

THE CARLOS WELL HAS BEEN LOST IS THE FEAR OF MEN INTERESTED

Water Coming in From Above Bottom of Well Is Going to Cause Hole to Be Lost, It Is Feared—Had Water Been Controlled, a 1,000 to 5,000 Barrell Well May Have Resulted.

It will require another hole to bring in an oil well at Carlos, is the opinion of men who are financially interested in the wildcat venture in that section in Grimes county. The present hole, which it had been expected would be brought in yesterday, has been lost, it is thought, in much the same manner as the previous well—the enormous gas pressure blowing out all controls. The gas pressure is amazing in its amount and intensity. About 2 o'clock this morning it was blowing so hard through a 6-inch pipe that the roar was heard at Iola, 15 miles away, and at Anderson, 12 miles distant. An angle pipe had been placed in the casing to turn the gas out parallel to the ground instead of straight into the air and a man tried to walk through the line of gas 600 feet from the well and the force of the gas was so great he could not keep on his feet. At that time there was very little sand or water in the flow but it is coming in stronger all the time, the water coming in from a higher level than the gas. Dr. Sims, who visited the well this morning, brought this report to Bryan, and said that reliable estimates had placed the probable oil production at from 1 to 5 thousand barrels if the water could have been controlled. When flowing at maximum, it is estimated that the gas pressure of the well was 60,000,000 cubic feet per day.

HEAVY GAS FLOW The liner and screen were put into place at 2:30 on Monday afternoon, according to reports reaching Bryan, in the Carlos Well in Grimes County. The well began gassing shortly afterward and at 7:00 this morning word from the well via Navasota from parties who had been at the scene, stated that the proportions of the gasser had reached around 30,000,000 cubic feet or more. About 2:30 o'clock this morning water began coming into the gas and also traces of oil. This information is given out by M. E. Wallace, trustee for the well.

Griesser, had the auditorium beautifully illuminated with electric lights, which added much to the success of the meeting.

Kurten Planning Buy New Delco Electric Plant

The Kurten community club held last Saturday night, the program consisting of several interesting numbers by home talent, supplemented with talks by District Agent George W. Johnson, H. O. Boatwright, president of the First National Bank, Bryan, Texas, and Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce.

After President W. H. Buchanan called the house to order the meeting was turned over to County Agent C. L. Beason who directed the exercises, introducing the several speakers and assisting in songs and yells by club members.

Mr. Johnson complimented the Kurten community on their enterprising and aggressive spirit, manifesting itself in the completion and equipment of the splendid auditorium which, he declared was a revelation to him in community pride and progress, all of which was in striking contrast, he said, to the spirit of another people who had placed upon their flag the design of a biting and poisonous rattlesnake. Mr. Johnson declared that among the things which make for better communities we should not forget the influence of music, the importance of eating together, and contemplating the virtues of one another.

Country Boy's Ambition In speaking concerning the progress of the Kurten community, H. O. Boatwright, president of the First National Bank of Bryan, said that he did not have to be told the kind of citizens residing in any particular community: their houses, their fences, their mules and other livestock, their schools and churches, and the general appearance of the farmstead are as an index to the type of citizenship therein. He paid a high tribute to the country boy fired with an ambition to succeed in life, pointing to the phenomenal record of Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, and the late Bishop Seth Ward, as examples of what is possible for country-bred boys to achieve, both of these men, he declared, having lived on the farm, and that Seth Ward had, as a country boy, passed through Kurten many times driving an ox team hauling cotton to Bryan.

Mr. Boatwright's familiarity with Bible characters and Biblical history showed that he is not only conversant with banking problems, but is also a past master in Bible lore. He declared that the world has had five institutions—the home, the tabernacle, the temple, synagogue, and the church, but that the home and the church have meant more to civilization than all else, and it is to the traditions of the home and the teachings of the church that we should continue to look in the future, and not to other institutions however great.

Secretary Eberstadt told of how his advertising committee not only tried to help the people of Bryan, but the country people as well.

County Agent Beason passed a number of bulletins dealing with the grain sorghums as emergency crops.

W. H. Buchanan appointed M. B. Easters and Dr. W. F. Odum on a committee to look after lights, either making arrangements to buy a Delco plant or provide other lights suitable for meetings. John L. Cobb, representing Charlie

Supt. McDonald Gets Tires Stolen

Superintendent D. J. McDonald was surprised Saturday morning to find when he unlocked his garage that some one had come under cover of the night without his consent and relieved his Chevrolet car of two demountable rims, two inner tubes and two perfectly new tires, the estimated loss about $25.00.

After supper Friday night Superintendent and Mrs. McDonald went for a drive returning home about 8 o'clock. Locking the garage they hid the key in the usual place for safe keeping. That was the last time they were in the garage until the next morning and this found the above results. This is the second time Supt. McDonald's car has been robbed this year. Evidently, whoever the intruders are, they have their eye on where the key is kept. Supt. McDonald says that this time on he is going to carry his key in his pocket. Officers are working on the case but so far they have no clue to the perpetrators.

Both companies of the Bryan Fire Department held their regular meeting on last night at the Fire Station at 8 o'clock. Chemical Company No. 2 transacted their routine business and Protection Engine Company No. 2 accepted the resignation of Jeff Cole as president, electing I. E. Warren, vice-president, to succeed Mr. Cole and naming Jno. J. Stasney as vice president. After the business of the companies had been completed the members and a few friends and invited guests gathered in a social meeting to honor the 40th anniversary of Chief C. J. Jenkins having joined the Bryan Volunteer Fire Department.

As a token of appreciation by the fire department if the service rendered by Mr. Jenkins, now Chief, throughout the past 40 years, I. E. Warren, on behalf of the members, presented to him a new uniform, complete with cap to match. Chief Jenkins responded with a short talk, giving his praise to the members of both companies for their hearty cooperation.

This Section Got A Very Nice Rain Monday Afternoon

Most of the readers of the Bryan Daily Eagle are already aware that this city got a very nice shower on Monday afternoon from about 4:30 or 5:00 until nearly 6:00 o'clock. The exact amount as recorded on the standard gauge maintained by the Eagle Printing Company, was .14 inches. Riverside community, below Smetana on the road to Mudville and Steele's Store got quite a downpour, nearly an inch and a half, 1.37 inches to be exact. Steele's Store got a heavy rain according to Seth Mooring who telephoned to Bryan that his plantation got a good precipitation that was sufficient to bring up the cotton which has been planted lately. The E. H. Astin plantation got a good rain and it extended as far up as Mumford. The Milton Sims plantation between Mudville and Steele's Store got a heavy rain which fell over all parts of the place. It began about 4:30 o'clock and continued until 6:00 o'clock. The Chance plantation, just beyond Koppe's bridge, got a light rain which extended down into and below the Robinson plantation. Allen Smith, who was returning from Brenham during the precipitation, said this morning that a light rain fell on him practically all the way into Bryan.

NEW DISTRICT AGENT TALKED AT LIONS MEET

After songs lead by "Rip" Erskine and readings given by Gusie Ballestedt and Ralphanna Searcy, business occupied the meeting of the Bryan Lions Club on Tuesday noon. Minutes of the last previous meeting were read by Harry S. Edge, secretary and approved. Pat Newton reported on ways of financing the ladies' night held last week and his plan adopted. Erskine reported on the joint meeting with the Rotary Club and the Lions voted to hold the first meeting on July 15th when they will be guests of the Rotary and the Lions are to furnish the program.

M. E. Cox announced that one of the fellow-members, E. V. Spence had accepted a position as city manager of San Angelo, Texas, and transferred his membership to that place, extending Bryan Lions an invitation to visit him there whenever in that section of Texas. Lion Fuller, said Wm. N. Sholl, was busy today at Austin helping inaugurate President Spawls as head of Texas University.

Lion Hunt expressed his thanks to everyone who helped to make the ladies night so much of a success. George W. Johnson, the new district agent, Extension Service, talked at some length and told some amusing stories. He closed with an expression of gratitude for having been invited to be present and enjoy sitting around the luncheon table with members of a club that did things and had good "credit."

County Agent C. L. Beason also spoke briefly, principally with regard to a native persimmon pecan tree found in Brazos County that had grown pecans so large that but 32 of them made a pound and that he was going to use buds from this tree on Thompson's creek to create a paper-shell tree out of native and inferior stock in other parts of Brazos and produce a greater industry in pecans as another achievement for better agriculture and a better Bryan and county.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

In mapping out their ten-year program for the betterment of agriculture, the Smith county farmers have, according to T. C. Richardson, field editor, Farm and Ranch, hung up the following 16 goals:

1. Every farmer own his land.
2. Better homes, better farms for all.
3. Better accommodations for tenants.
4. Every farm properly terraced and drained.
5. Soil conservation, soil building with legumes.
6. A three-year crop rotation scheme on every farm.
7. Feed and food crops 40 percent of the cultivated acreage.
8. A home orchard; an all-the-year garden.
9. Thirty hens, a cow, and a sow for every farm.
10. No scrub stock; no scrub seed; no scrub farming.
11. Liberal, sensible use of commercial fertilizers.
12. No farm dependent on cotton alone.
13. Long-term leases to deserving tenants.
14. Help good tenants in acquiring homes.
15. Community fairs in every section of the county.
16. Good schools and churches for all, and unfailing fellowship for all.

A close study of all these points might reveal some ground for criticism, but certainly all the "goals" are worthy, and while all the points might not suit every county, yet they might be suggestive of others that would suit. Suppose our community leaders try striking out, or adding to the list as they think should be done to suit their own localities, and then let's have your outline.

The Seventh Jew
In speaking editorially on "The Modern Chamber of Commerce among other things," "The Secretary who succeeds in interesting Secretary," Farm and Ranch says, the business men in his city in rural development has accomplished something worth while. "Colonel, because of his interest in rural development and his contribution to rural progress, the secretary of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce has been called "the seventh Jew in agriculture."

Poison Did the Work
W. E. Gandy of Wellborn called on the County Agent a few days ago to say that the "dope" suggested for control of grasshoppers did the work. Mr. Gandy says the bran mash poison will do the work, if directions are followed. Very fine reports have come from many farmers who found the poison most effective. Not much has been said about it, but the effective work which the farmers have done in grasshopper control, has been most remarkable this year.

Value of Manure
Manure hauled to the fields as produced is worth $3.45 a ton, fertilizing value. Left three months in the barnyard it is worth only $2.92 a ton. These figures come from twenty-one years' experience at the Ohio Station. —Farm and Fireside.

Get in the Contest
The Dallas News "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest closes on July 15, so far as those who enter the contest are concerned. Making the entry date this late gives every one all the chance he could ask for, and brings a new chance to those who have been hard hit by the drought, but who may yet get rain in time for a good yield of cotton. Just remember, the fellow who seems ahead now may not be the one who wins that grand prize of one thousand dollars. Again, there are other prizes to be awarded regardless of the yield. Seems that Brazos county farmers should be willing to get in on this, at least. Joe Locke confesses that he ought to get in the contest again this year, since he only lacked 8 bales winning last year. Of course you ought to, Joe. When the seasons shift, bringing rain to old Brazos, there may be surprises in the variety of crops as well as the production this year. You better get into the contest. Local prizes will not be available, unless a certain number show interest in the contest. It is up to you. What are you going to do about it?

Attend Short Course
Are you planning to attend the Short Course this year? Will your son or daughter be present to enjoy and profit by the splendid program for that week? It is an endeavor on the part of those who plan the program to give in the most condensed form possible whatever will be most helpful in the home and on the farm. In one week's time a working knowledge may be gained of what it has taken a lifetime of study and research to find out. Last year when Director T. O. Walton was addressing the Brazos county people of "Brazos County Day," he went that day might be present expressed his wish that those presiding day and thereby profit by the good things prepared for them, instead of spending only a few hours. Think it over. Why could not Brazos county people strike camp at College each year and enjoy this great treat as no other people in Texas could?

Reliance on Saturday
All aboard for Reliance community meeting next Saturday night. President Henry Shirley promises all a good time pulling off a contest, the boys against the girls. You will see the need of a large auditorium, accommodating several hundred people.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Seeley Co.'s truss expert from Chicago will personally be at the Bryan Hotel, and will remain in Bryan Thursday only, June 18. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spemantic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and without any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional rupture (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions." Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. Our representative will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

ALL COTTON CONTEST ENTRIES MUST BE IN BY AUGUST THE FIRST

Entries in the "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest will close August 1. In many communities the idea prevails that the date for final entries is sooner, but because of the lateness of the season and the need for giving all farmers a square deal the closing date is set for August 1st.

The same day is the final date when the five acres entered must be measured. Work of measuring the land should be done now, or else local committees will be swamped during the last few weeks. It can be done in an orderly manner if started now.

Each county, through its chamber of commerce or through the county agent should organize a Local Cotton Contest Committee, which will have charge of measuring the five acres of each contestant before August 1. On the committee there must be two farmers living in the county or community where the entrants live and one merchant or business man from the nearest town. If the county is large and there are many farmers entered in the contest, it may be necessary to have several committees, one for each locality, which is a matter for the farmers to settle among themselves after consultation with their county agents and chamber of commerce secretaries.

Meeting of Park Board Has Been Postponed Later

A message today from Mrs. J. Wallace Brosig of Navasota to Mrs. Lee J. Rountree tells of the postponement of the meeting of the Washington Park Commission, which was to have been held today at the Park, until some later date convenient to board members, and Dr. H. H. Harrington of the State Board of Control, who is meeting with the board to assist in laying plans for the future development of the park. The postponement was made possible on account of Mrs. Brosig being called to Kerrville, to see her brother John Martin, who is critically ill. Members of the board are: Mrs. J. Wallace Brosig of Navasota, Mrs. A. E. Becker of Brenham, Mrs. W. S. Houston of Somerville, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree of Bryan and Sterling Smith of Chapel Hill.

Wilkerson Speaks To Falls County Medical Society

Dr. L. O. Wilkerson went to Marlin yesterday in response to an invitation to speak before the Falls County Medical Association, which met in the Council Chamber on the first floor of the City Hall building last night. Sometime ago Dr. J. B. White, program chairman, invited Dr. Wilkerson to address the society and suggested that he select his own subject. After much reflection he decided to talk on "Hemorrhagic Cortical Encephalitis," report of two cases.

He gave details of observations at the different stages, explained results of tests and described temperature, pulse, etc., during the various periods of his observations, and presented interesting facts which should prove very valuable to the medical fraternity, but, owing to technical terms, etc., would be like Greek to the average laymen should it be reproduced in this time.

Dr. J. H. Barnett is president and Dr. Howard Smith secretary of the Falls County Medical Society and did all in their power to make Dr. Wilkerson's visit to Marlin an enjoyable occasion, and judging by the smile and pleasant manner the Doctor is wearing today they must have been successful.

Dr. Wilkerson motored to Marlin yesterday afternoon and returned last night. He reports that quite an interesting program was presented and advises that the Falls County Medical Association is a wide-awake, enthusiastic organization.

Benny Ayres Shot Accidentally While Cleaning His Gun

Benny Ayres, son of Mrs. Gertrude Ayres, who lives on the Bowman place near Benchley, was accidentally shot while cleaning his gun Wednesday night. He says that he leaned the gun up and started to arise when the gun slipped and in falling his right arm between the wrist and elbow.

A hurry-up call for medical assistance was immediately phoned to Bryan and physicians went out and dressed the wound. Early this morning Benny was brought to Bryan and placed in the rooms of Seary & Wilkerson, where he received surgical attention and is now resting well, and unless complications arise should soon be able to return home, although it will take some time for the wound to heal so as to give him the use of his arm.
